Exhibit "E" contains the "CRM Subrecipient Guidelines for Federal Funding-Change Order Policies and Procedures" and provides guidelines that align with 2 CFR 200 (Uniform Guidance) regulations regarding contract modifications and change orders for grant-related activities. These guidelines are meant as general guidance and do not represent a full interpretation of 2 CFR 200, therefore the Subrecipient should become familiar with 2 CFR 200 to support compliance with all Federal regulations therein.

C. All Subrecipient's costs of the Program shall be recorded by budget line items and be supported by canceled checks, payrolls, time records, invoices, contracts, vouchers, orders, and other accounting documents evidencing in proper detail the nature and propriety of all costs. At any time during normal business hours, the Subrecipient's financial transactions with respect to the Program may be audited by the County, independent auditors contracted by the County, HUD, the Comptroller General of the United States, the General Accounting Office, or any combination thereof. Invoices of expenditures must be submitted to County and funds will be accounted for in a ledger separate from all other revenue sources, per 2 CFR 200.305. Timeliness of payments to Mesquite as Subrecipient shall be in accordance with 2 CFR 200.305, 2 CFR 200.300-309, and 31 CFR 205, whereby methods and procedures for payment shall minimize the time elapsing between the transfer of funds and disbursement by the subgrantee, in accordance with the cited regulations. Disbursement of funds should occur within 3-5 working days, per recommendation of U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

F. Expenditures will be reviewed for consistency with the approved budget and scope of services as well as 2 CFR Part 200 entitled "Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards". Approved invoices will be paid in a timely manner.

G. Advancement of funds is contingent upon receipt by the County of its Federal Fiscal Year 2020/2021 CDBG grant funds, in the amounts shown at Exhibit "B". The County shall bear no liability to fund or provide payment to or on behalf of the Subrecipient's expenditures under the jurisdiction of this Interlocal Agreement in the event no CDBG funds are received during Federal Fiscal Year 2020/2021 and shall only be liable for payment to the extent CDBG funds are received.

H. This Interlocal Agreement will commence upon its approval and signature by all parties and it shall be completed by June 30, 2021. Capital projects shall be completed by June 30, 2023, or by the written approval of an extension by the Assistant Director of Clark County Social Service.

I. In the event that the County finds that the total amount of its CDBG funds allocated for the Program are not expended in the time and manner prescribed in this Interlocal Agreement, the County reserves the right to extract that portion for other projects and programs under its CDBG Program, after providing at least forty-five days written notice to Subrecipient.

J. Upon the expiration or revocation of this Interlocal Agreement, the Subrecipient shall transfer to County any Funds on hand at the time of expiration or revocation and any accounts receivable attributable to the use of the Funds.

Subrecipient Guidelines for Federal Funding

Procurement Policies and Procedures

1. Purpose of these procurement guidelines. These guidelines are designed to support subrecipient compliance with Title 2 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 200.318 to 326 (Procurement Standards) with two focus areas:

- Non-Federal entity procedures for the procurement of supplies and other expendable property, equipment, real property and other services; and
- Record keeping requirements.

A copy of the code is attached to this guide as Appendix A. These guidelines are meant as general guidance only and do not represent a full interpretation of 2 CFR 200. Subrecipients should become familiar with 2 CFR 200 to support their compliance with all Federal regulations. These guidelines are subject to being updated, as needed, by the staff of Community Resources Management (CRM). Subrecipient is required to review, complete and return Appendix B, along with their required written procurement procedures/code of conduct, to CC CRM staff prior to execution of the grant agreement. Appendix C outlines change order procedures.

The Appendices of this guide also include Appendix D-Rules for Construction Projects with Non-Profit Organizations/Agencies and Appendix E-OIG Integrity Bulletin for Procurement and Contracting. Appendix D reiterates the rules for construction projects and due diligence by subrecipients who engage contractors and subcontractors in Federally funded work. Appendix E is general guidance provided by the Office of Inspector General (OIG) for Procurement and Contracting and should be taken under advisement by all subrecipients. Appendix F is a no conflict statement that needs to be completed and returned to CC-CRM if A&E and/or Construction Management services were not procured in accordance with 2 CFR 200.

2. Written procurement procedures. (2 CFR 200.318) All Non-Federal entities, including subrecipients, who receive Federal awards are required to use their own documented procurement procedures which reflect applicable state and local laws, provided that the procurements conform to applicable Federal law and the standards identified in 2 CFR 200.318 to 326.

The 2 CFR 200 guidance herein may be applied by any subrecipient of Clark County administered Federal awards if that subrecipient's procurement policies do not comply with 2 CFR 200. A checklist for subrecipients is included with these procedures as Appendix B and should be completed and submitted to Clark County by the subrecipient to confirm an understanding that the subrecipient will use procedures that are compliant with 2 CFR 200, as indicated on the list.

3. Written code of conduct. (2 CFR 200.318) The Non-Federal entity, including any subrecipients, must maintain written standards of conduct covering conflicts of interest and governing the actions of its employees engaged in the selection, award and administration of contracts. No employee, officer, or agent shall participate in the selection, award, or administration of a contract supported by a Federal award if he or she has a real or apparent conflict of interest. Such a conflict would arise when the employee, officer, or agent, any member of his or her immediate family, his or her partner, or an organization which employs or is about to employ any of the parties indicated herein, has a financial or other interest in the firm selected for a contract.

4. Records of procurement history. (2 CFR 200.318) The Non-Federal entity must maintain records sufficient to detail the history of procurement. These records will include but are not limited to the following: rationale for the method of procurement, selection of contract type, contractor selection or rejection, and the basis for the contract price. Additional records required for each procurement type are outlined under the procurement type in Section 9-Methods of Procurement. Please note that all subrecipients are required to keep these records and make them available for review to Clark County or Federal staff upon request. Provide CRM staff with a draft of the public advertisement for approval, prior to publishing, for all contractor and/or Architect/Engineering (A&E) solicitations.

5. Competition. (2 CFR 200.319) All procurement transactions shall be conducted in a manner to provide, to the maximum extent practical, open and free competition. The non-Federal entity (subrecipient) shall be alert to organizational conflicts of interest as well as noncompetitive practices among contractors that may restrict or eliminate competition or otherwise restrain trade. In order to ensure objective contractor performance and eliminate unfair competitive advantage, contractors that develop or draft specifications, requirements, statements of work, invitation for bids and/or requests for proposals must be excluded from competing for such procurements. Awards shall be made to the bidder or offeror whose bid or offer is responsive to the solicitation and is most advantageous to the non-Federal entity. Price, quality and other factors shall be considered. If the low bidder is not selected, justification must be documented. Examples for not selecting the low bidder may be that the bid was incomplete (non-responsive); the contractor had been debarred or did not have the appropriate licensing, bonding and/or insurance; another bidder qualified for a Section 3 bidding preference, etc. Solicitations shall clearly set forth all requirements that the bidder or offeror shall fulfill in order for the bid or offer to be evaluated by the non-Federal entity. Any and all bids or offers may be rejected when it is in the non-Federal entity's interest to do so. In all procurement, the non-Federal entity shall avoid practices that are restrictive of competition.

These include but not limited to:

- (a) Placing unreasonable requirements on firms for them to qualify to do business,
- (b) Requiring unnecessary experience and excessive bonding,
- (c) Noncompetitive pricing practices between firms or between affiliated companies,
- (d) Noncompetitive awards to consultants that are on retainer contracts,
- (e) Organizational conflicts of interest,
- (f) Specifying only a brand name product instead of allowing an equal product to be offered and describing the performance of other relevant requirements of the procurement, and
- (g) Any arbitrary action in the procurement process.

6. Debarment and Suspension (Part I in Appendix II of 2 CFR 200) No contract shall be made to parties listed on the SAM.Gov website as having active “exclusions” (Debarment and/or Suspension).

Only the Prime/General Contractor is required to be registered on SAM.Gov. However, for all sub and lower tier contractors, subrecipients are required to check and document both the company names, and the names of company principals, through the SAM.Gov website to ensure they have not been debarred. A record of the search documenting both the company names, and the names of the company principals, is required and must be maintained. Printing a PDF of the Sam.gov search result showing “no exclusions” with a date the search was conducted for each name will suffice for this requirement. The principal names can be obtained by searching for the company’s contractor’s license on the Nevada State Contractors Board website.

7. Contracting with Small and Minority Businesses, Women’s Business Enterprises, and Labor Surplus Area Firms. (2 CFR 200.321) Positive efforts shall be made by the non-Federal entity to utilize small businesses, minority-owned firms, and women's business enterprises, whenever possible.

- (a) Ensure that small businesses, minority-owned firms, and women's business enterprises are used to the fullest extent practicable.
- (b) Make information on forthcoming opportunities available and arrange time frames for purchases and contracts to encourage and facilitate participation by small businesses, minority-owned firms, and women's business enterprises.
- (c) Consider in the contract process whether firms competing for larger contracts intend to subcontract with small businesses, minority-owned firms, and women's business enterprises.
- (d) Encourage, when practical, contracting with consortiums of small businesses, minority-owned firms and women's business enterprises when a contract is too large for one of these firms to handle individually.
- (e) Use the services and assistance, as appropriate and practical, of such organizations as the Small Business Administration and the Department of Commerce's Minority Business Development Agency in the solicitation and utilization of small businesses, minority-owned firms and women's business enterprises.

8. Other Procurement Standards (2 CFR 300.318) In general, the subrecipient should adhere to the following procurement standards:

- (a) The non-Federal entity should avoid acquisition of unnecessary or duplicative items. Consideration should be given to consolidating or breaking out procurements to obtain a more economical purchase.
- (b) Where appropriate, an analysis is made of lease and purchase alternatives to determine which would be the most economical and practical procurement.
- (c) The non-Federal entity must award contracts only to responsible contractors possessing the ability to perform successfully under the terms and conditions of a proposed procurement. Consideration will be given to such matters as contractor integrity, compliance with public policy, record of past performance, and financial and technical resources.

9. Methods of Procurement. (2 CFR 200.320) Federal guidance defines five methods of procurement: Micro-Purchases, Small Purchases, Sealed Bids, Competitive Proposals and Non-Competitive Proposals. For each type of procurement, the information in the shaded area indicates records that must be maintained in the sub recipient's files.

(a) Procurement by micro-purchases. Federal guidance defines procurement by micro-purchase as the acquisition of supplies or services, the aggregate dollar amount of which does not exceed the micro-purchase threshold, currently at $10,000 (2 CFR 200.67; increased from $3K by HUD in 3/2019). This amount is periodically adjusted for inflation. To the extent practicable, the non-Federal entity must distribute micro-purchases equitably among qualified suppliers. Micro-purchases may be awarded without soliciting competitive quotations if the non-Federal entity considers the price to be reasonable. This method of procurement is intended to reduce administrative burdens by enabling non-Federal entities to obtain supplies and services valued at less than $10,000 without soliciting competitive quotes.

Procurement records required for micro-purchase procurement

1. Rationale for using micro-purchase procedures

(b) Procurement by small purchase procedures. Small purchase procedures are those relatively simple and informal procurement methods for securing services, supplies, or other property that do not cost more than the "Simplified Acquisition Threshold" in accordance with 41 U.S.C. 1908 (2 CFR 200.88) (currently set at $250,000; increased from $150K by HUD in 3/2019) and where procurement by sealed bid is not required. If small purchase procedures are used, price or rate quotations shall be obtained from an adequate number of qualified sources to ensure that the selection process is competitive. Records of these price or rate quotations should be maintained in the project files.

Please note that 2 CFR 200 states that "the sealed bid is the preferred method for procuring construction." Therefore, the non-Federal entity should carefully evaluate Construction Contracts, even if they are under the Simplified Acquisition Threshold, to determine whether they should be procured by sealed bid.

Procurement records required for small purchase procedures:

1. Rationale for using small purchase procedures
2. Written criteria of materials or scope of work used to obtain quotes
3. Clearly dated records of price or rate quotations from an adequate number of qualified sources

(c) Procurement by sealed bids (formal advertising). Bids are publicly solicited and a firm fixed-price contract (lump sum or unit price) is awarded to the responsible bidder whose bid, conforming to all the material terms and conditions of the invitation for bids, is the lowest in price.

(i) The sealed bid method is the preferred method for procuring construction if the following conditions are present:

- (A) A complete, adequate, and realistic specification or purchase description is available;
- (B) Two or more responsible bidders are willing and able to compete effectively for the business; and
- (C) The procurement lends itself to a firm fixed-price contract and the selection of the successful bidder can be made principally based on price.

(ii) If sealed bids are used, the following requirements apply:

- (A) The invitation for bids will be publicly advertised and bids shall be solicited from an adequate number of known suppliers, providing them sufficient time prior to the date set for opening the bids;
 - 1. Clark County CRM requires the duration of a sub recipient's advertisements of an invitation to bid in local media publications to be a minimum of 1 week, and a minimum of 2 weeks from advertisement to bid opening;
 - 2. Examples of local print advertising venues include the Las Vegas Review Journal, El Mundo, El Tiempo, etc.;
 - 3. Plans/specifications are to be made available in local plans rooms (Construction Notebook, Dodge Data & Analytics, Sierra Contractors Source, Construction Market Data, etc.);
 - 4. The advertisement shall state when/where the bid documents will be made available and procedures for obtaining them.
- (B) The invitation for bids, which will include any specifications and pertinent attachments, shall define the items or services in sufficient detail for the bidders to properly and fully respond;
- (C) All bids will be sealed, dated stamped and publicly opened at the time and place prescribed in the invitation for bids;
- (D) A firm fixed-price contract award will be made in writing to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder. Where specified in bidding documents, factors such as discounts, transportation cost, and life cycle costs shall be considered in determining which bid is lowest. Payment discounts will only be used to determine the low bid when prior experience indicates that such discounts are usually taken advantage of; and

- (E) Any or all bids may be rejected if there is a sound, documented reason.

(iii) Advertisements/Solicitations for bid must state that the project is federally funded and therefore subject to Davis-Bacon prevailing wages, Section 3, Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity and other federal regulations.

Procurement records required for sealed bids:

1. Rationale for using sealed bids
2. An independent cost and price analysis (estimate)
3. Written bid solicitations/advertisements
4. Submitted bids
5. Justification for lack of competition when competitive bids are not obtained for procurements
6. Basis for contractor selection (award cost or price)
7. Contractor selection (award letter)
8. Contract

(d) Procurement by competitive proposals. The technique of competitive proposals is normally conducted with more than one source submitting an offer, resulting in the award of either a fixed-price or cost-reimbursement type contract. It is generally used when conditions are not appropriate for the use of sealed bids, micro or small purchase procedures. There are two types of competitive proposals; requests for proposals (RFP's), or Requests for Qualifications (RFQ's). If this procurement method is used, the following requirements apply:

- (i) Requests for proposals (RFP's), or Requests for Qualifications (RFQ's), will be publicized and identify all evaluation factors and their relative importance. Any response to publicized requests for proposals shall be honored to the maximum extent practical;
- (ii) Proposals will be solicited from an adequate number of qualified sources;
- (iii) Awards will be made to the responsible firm whose proposal is most advantageous to the non-Federal entity with price, qualifications and other factors considered (see Section 8 (c) for other factors); and
- (v) RFQ is the type of competitive proposal used to procure Architectural or Engineering (A/E) services for project design. The most qualified competitor is selected based on an evaluation of qualifications. Price is not used as a selection factor. This approach may be used only to purchase architectural and engineering services. Competitors' qualifications are evaluated, and the most qualified competitor is selected, subject to negotiation of fair and reasonable compensation. A scoring matrix should be developed and made part of the RFQ solicitation to score, evaluate and document the submittals. The RFQ cannot be used to procure services other than Architectural or Engineering from a firm, even if that firm is a potential source to perform other services.

Procurement records required for competitive proposals:

1. Rationale for using competitive proposal
2. An independent cost and price analysis (estimate) if more than Simplified Acquisition Threshold or if for construction
3. Written bid solicitations for proposal/advertisements
4. Submitted proposals
5. Justification for lack of competition if insufficient number of proposals are obtained for procurements
6. Basis for proposal selection (award cost or price)/factors considered/scoring matrix
7. Contractor selection (award letter)
8. Contract

(e) Procurement by noncompetitive proposals. This is procurement through solicitation of a proposal from only one source.

(i) Procurement by noncompetitive proposals may be used only when the award of a contract is infeasible under micro-purchase or small purchase procedures, sealed bids or competitive proposals AND one of the following circumstances applies:

- (A) The item is available only from a single source;
- (B) The public exigency or emergency for the requirement will not permit a delay resulting from competitive solicitation;
- (C) The Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity expressly authorizes the use of noncompetitive proposals in response to a written request from the non-Federal entity; or
- (D) After solicitation of a number of sources, competition is determined inadequate.

(ii) Cost analysis, i.e., verifying the proposed cost data, the projections of the data, and the evaluation of the specific elements of costs and profits, is required in order to support reasonableness of costs.

Procurement records required for noncompetitive proposals

1. Rationale for using noncompetitive proposal procurement-justification for lack of competition
2. An independent cost and price analysis (estimate) to support reasonableness of cost
3. Scope of work
4. Contract

10. Scope of Work for Bids and Proposals. (2 CFR 200.318) Sub recipients should develop sufficiently detailed scopes of work for bids and proposals to avoid unnecessary change orders by contractors. Solicitations for goods and services will provide for all the following:

- (a) A clear and accurate description of the technical requirements for the material, product or service to be procured. The description should be comprehensive and with sufficient detail that the contractor will not need to submit change orders for items that should have been in the initial scope of work. In competitive procurements, such a description shall not contain features which unduly restrict competition.
- (b) Requirements which must be fulfilled, and all other factors to be used in evaluating proposals, are to be submitted in response to solicitations.
- (c) A description, whenever practicable, of technical requirements in terms of functions to be performed or performance required, including the range of acceptable characteristics or minimum acceptable standards.
- (d) When relevant, the specific features of "brand name or equal" descriptions that are to be included in responses submitted to solicitation.
- (e) The acceptance, to the extent practicable and economically feasible, of products and services dimensioned in the metric system of measurement.
- (f) Preference, to the extent practicable and economically feasible, for products and services that conserve natural resources, protect the environment and are energy efficient.

11. Cost and price analysis. (2 CFR 200.323) Some form of cost or price analysis shall be made and documented in the procurement files in connection with every procurement action, based on guidance for the method of procurement used, as outlined in Section 9-Methods of Procurement.

For capital projects that will be procured through a competitive, sealed bid process, it is encouraged that the A/E (lead consultant for the project design) engages the services of a professional, third-party cost estimator early in the project design and provide periodic updates through final design to help ensure the project remains within budget parameters. The recipient of federal funds for a capital project must have a cost estimate for the completed project design.

The type of procuring instruments used (e.g., fixed price contracts, cost reimbursable contracts, purchase orders, and incentive contracts) shall be determined by the non-Federal entity but shall be appropriate for the particular procurement and for promoting the best interest of the program or project involved. The "cost-plus-a-percentage-of- cost" or "percentage of construction cost" methods of contracting shall not be used.

See Section 9-Methods of Procurement for more information on the type of cost analysis required for each method. Records that show evidence of the appropriate cost analysis should be kept in the procurement files.

12. Contract modifications/change orders. (2 CFR 200.324) All contract modifications or change orders by subrecipients must be documented clearly in the files with cost analysis records or third-party cost estimates, as applicable, and are subject to review by Clark County and/or Federal staff. Please also note that sub recipients should develop initial scopes of work with sufficient detail as to include all aspects of the project requirements and reduce the use of unnecessary change orders. Details regarding Change Order Procedures are included as Appendix C.

13. Contract administration. A system for contract administration shall be maintained to ensure contractor conformance with the terms, conditions and specifications of the contract and to ensure adequate and timely follow up of all purchases. The non-Federal entity shall evaluate contractor performance and document, as appropriate, whether contractors have met the terms, conditions and specifications of the contract. Subrecipients will make contract administration files available to Clark County CRM staff for monitoring, as needed.

14. Contract provisions. (2 CFR 200.325 and 2 CFR 200.326-Appendix II) The Non-Federal entity shall include, in addition to provisions to define a sound and complete agreement, the following provisions in all contracts. The following provisions shall also be applied to subcontracts.

(a) Contracts in excess of the Simplified Acquisition Threshold, currently set at $250,000, shall contain contractual provisions or conditions that allow for administrative, contractual, or legal remedies in instances in which a contractor violates or breaches the contract terms, and provide for such remedial actions as may be appropriate.

(b) All contracts in excess of $10,000 shall contain suitable provisions for termination by the non-Federal entity, including how termination shall be affected and the basis for settlement. In addition, such contracts shall describe conditions under which the contract may be terminated for default as well as conditions where the contract may be terminated because of circumstances beyond the control of the contractor.

(c) Professional Services Contracts should include:

- (i) Specific contract period dates;
- (ii) Project milestones;
- (iii) Specification of materials and other services;
- (iv) Provisions for compensation;
- (v) All required federal contract language.
- (vi) If paid from CDBG funds:
 - a. Required to use the RFP/RFQ method of solicitation;

- b. Three-year period, maximum;
- c. Sub recipient's contracts should be reviewed and approved by the sub recipient's legal counsel.

(d) For contracts dealing with construction or facility improvements, the non-Federal entity shall comply with all requirements imposed by its funding sources (and the government regulations applicable to those funding sources) regarding construction bid guarantees, performance bonds, and payment bonds. Following are HUD's minimum bonding requirements:

- (i) Bid guarantee-5% of bid price;
- (ii) Performance bond-100% of contract price;
- (iii) Payment bond-100% of contract price;
- (vii) Bonds from companies holding certificates of authority pursuant to 31 CFR part 223.

(e) All negotiated contracts awarded by the sub recipient shall include a provision to the effect that Clark County and/or HUD shall have access to any books, documents, papers and records of the contractor which are directly pertinent to a specific program for the purpose of making audits, examinations, excerpts and transcriptions.

(f) All contracts, including small purchases, awarded by the subrecipient and their contractors where the source of the funds, directly or indirectly, is the federal government, shall contain the procurement provisions from 2 CFR 200.326-Appendix II, as applicable. This document is included in Appendix A of these guidelines.

Code of Federal Regulations (CFR)

Title 2 - Grants and Agreements

Volume: 1

Date: 2014-01-01

Original Date: 2014-01-01

Title: Section 200.318 - General procurement standards.

Context: Title 2 - Grants and Agreements. Subtitle A - Office of Management and Budget Guidance for Grants and Agreements. CHAPTER II - OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET GUIDANCE. - Reserved. PART 200 - UNIFORM ADMINISTRATIVE REQUIREMENTS, COST PRINCIPLES, AND AUDIT REQUIREMENTS FOR FEDERAL AWARDS. Subpart D - Post Federal Award Requirements. - Procurement Standards.

(a) The Non-Federal entity must use its own documented procurement procedures which reflect applicable State and local laws and regulations, provided that the procurements conform to applicable Federal law and the standards identified in this section.

(b) Non-Federal entities must maintain oversight to ensure that contractors perform in accordance with the terms, conditions, and specifications of their contracts or purchase orders.

(c)(1) The Non-Federal entity must maintain written standards of conduct covering conflicts of interest and governing the performance of its employees engaged in the selection, award and administration of contracts. No employee, officer, or agent must participate in the selection, award, or administration of a contract supported by a Federal award if he or she has a real or apparent conflict of interest. Such a conflict of interest would arise when the employee, officer, or agent, any member of his or her immediate family, his or her partner, or an organization which employs or is about to employ any of the parties indicated herein, has a financial or other interest in or a tangible personal benefit from a firm considered for a contract. The officers, employees, and agents of the non-Federal entity must neither solicit nor accept gratuities, favors, or anything of monetary value from contractors or parties to subcontracts. However, non-Federal entities may set standards for situations in which the financial interest is not substantial, or the gift is an unsolicited item of nominal value. The standards of conduct must provide for disciplinary actions to be applied for violations of such standards by officers, employees, or agents of the non-Federal entity.

(2) If the non-Federal entity has a parent, affiliate, or subsidiary organization that is not a state, local government, or Indian tribe, the non-Federal entity must also maintain written standards of conduct covering organizational conflicts of interest. Organizational conflicts of interest mean that because of relationships with a parent company, affiliate, or subsidiary organization, the non-Federal entity is unable or appears to be unable to be impartial in conducting a procurement action involving a related organization.

(d) The Non-Federal entity's procedures must avoid acquisition of unnecessary or duplicative items. Consideration should be given to consolidating or breaking out procurements to obtain a more economical purchase. Where appropriate, an analysis will be made of lease versus purchase alternatives, and any other appropriate analysis to determine the most economical approach.

(e) To foster greater economy and efficiency, and in accordance with efforts to promote cost-effective use of shared services across the Federal government, the non-Federal entity is encouraged to enter into state and local intergovernmental agreements or inter-entity agreements where appropriate for procurement or use of common or shared goods and services.

(f) The Non-Federal entity is encouraged to use Federal excess and surplus property in lieu of purchasing new equipment and property whenever such use is feasible and reduces project costs.

(g) The Non-Federal entity is encouraged to use value engineering clauses in contracts for construction projects of sufficient size to offer reasonable opportunities for cost reductions. Value engineering is a systematic and creative analysis of each contract item or task to ensure that its essential function is provided at the overall lower cost.

(h) The Non-Federal entity must award contracts only to responsible contractors possessing the ability to perform successfully under the terms and conditions of a proposed procurement. Consideration will be given to such matters as contractor integrity, compliance with public policy, record of past performance, and financial and technical resources.

(i) The Non-Federal entity must maintain records sufficient to detail the history of procurement. These records will include but are not necessarily limited to the following: rationale for the method of procurement, selection of contract type, contractor selection or rejection, and the basis for the contract price.

/ Title 2 - Grants and Agreements / / 2014-01-01

(j)(1) The Non-Federal entity may use time and material type contracts only after a determination that no other contract is suitable and if the contract includes a ceiling price that the contractor exceeds at its own risk. Time and material type contract mean a contract whose cost to a non-Federal entity is the sum of:

(i) The actual cost of materials; and

(ii) Direct labor hours charged at fixed hourly rates that reflect wages, general and administrative expenses, and profit.

(2) Since this formula generates an open-ended contract price, a time-and-materials contract provides no positive profit incentive to the contractor for cost control or labor efficiency. Therefore, each contract must set a ceiling price that the contractor exceeds at its own risk. Further, the non-Federal entity awarding such a contract must assert a high degree of oversight in order to obtain reasonable assurance that the contractor is using efficient methods and effective cost controls.

(k) The Non-Federal entity alone must be responsible, in accordance with good administrative practice and sound business judgment, for the settlement of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements. These issues include, but are not limited to, source evaluation, protests, disputes, and claims. These standards do not relieve the non-Federal entity of any contractual responsibilities under its contracts. The Federal awarding agency will not substitute its judgment for that of the non-Federal entity unless the matter is primarily a Federal concern. Violations of law will be referred to the local, state, or Federal authority having proper jurisdiction.

(a) All procurement transactions must be conducted in a manner providing full and open competition consistent with the standards of this section. In order to ensure objective contractor performance and eliminate unfair competitive advantage, contractors that develop or draft specifications, requirements, statements of work, or invitations for bids or requests for proposals must be excluded from competing for such procurements. Some of the situations considered to be restrictive of competition include but are not limited to:

- (1) Placing unreasonable requirements on firms in order for them to qualify to do business;
- (2) Requiring unnecessary experience and excessive bonding;
- (3) Noncompetitive pricing practices between firms or between affiliated companies;
- (4) Noncompetitive contracts to consultants that are on retainer contracts;
- (5) Organizational conflicts of interest;

(6) Specifying only a “brand name” product instead of allowing “an equal” product to be offered and describing the performance or other relevant requirements of the procurement; and

- (7) Any arbitrary action in the procurement process.

(b) The Non-Federal entity must conduct procurements in a manner that prohibits the use of statutorily or administratively imposed state, local, or tribal geographical preferences in the evaluation of bids or proposals, except in those cases where applicable Federal statutes expressly mandate or encourage geographic preference. Nothing in this section preempts state licensing laws. When contracting for architectural and engineering (A/E) services, geographic location may be a selection criterion provided its application leaves an appropriate number of qualified firms, given the nature and size of the project, to compete for the contract.

(c) The Non-Federal entity must have written procedures for procurement transactions. These procedures must ensure that all solicitations:

(1) Incorporate a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements for the material, product, or service to be procured. Such description must not, in competitive procurements, contain features which unduly restrict competition. The description may include a statement of the qualitative nature of the material, product or service to be procured and, when necessary, must set forth those minimum essential characteristics and standards to which it must conform if it is to satisfy its intended use. Detailed product specifications should be avoided if possible. When it is impractical or uneconomical to make a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements, a "brand name or equivalent" description may be used as a means to define the performance or other salient requirements of procurement. The specific features of the named brand which must be met by offers must be clearly stated; and

(2) Identify all requirements which the offerors must fulfill and all other factors to be used in evaluating bids or proposals.

(d) The Non-Federal entity must ensure that all prequalified lists of persons, firms, or products which are used in acquiring goods and services are current and include enough qualified sources to ensure maximum open and free competition. Also, the non-Federal entity must not preclude potential bidders from qualifying during the solicitation period.

[78 FR 78608, Dec. 26, 2013, as amended at 79 FR 75885, Dec. 19, 2014]

The non-Federal entity must use one of the following methods of procurement.

(a) Procurement by micro-purchases. Procurement by micro-purchase is the acquisition of supplies or services, the aggregate dollar amount of which does not exceed the micro-purchase threshold (§200.67 Micro-purchase). To the extent practicable, the non-Federal entity must distribute micro-purchases equitably among qualified suppliers. Micro-purchases may be awarded without soliciting competitive quotations if the non-Federal entity considers the price to be reasonable.

(b) Procurement by small purchase procedures. Small purchase procedures are those relatively simple and informal procurement methods for securing services, supplies, or other property that do not cost more than the Simplified Acquisition Threshold. If small purchase procedures are used, price or rate quotations must be obtained from an adequate number of qualified sources.

(c) Procurement by sealed bids (formal advertising). Bids are publicly solicited and a firm fixed price contract (lump sum or unit price) is awarded to the responsible bidder whose bid, conforming with all the material terms and conditions of the invitation for bids, is the lowest in price. The sealed bid method is the preferred method for procuring construction, if the conditions in paragraph (c) (1) of this section apply.

(1) In order for sealed bidding to be feasible, the following conditions should be present:

(i) A complete, adequate, and realistic specification or purchase description is available;

(ii) Two or more responsible bidders are willing and able to compete effectively for the business; and

(iii) The procurement lends itself to a firm fixed price contract and the selection of the successful bidder can be made principally based on price.

(2) If sealed bids are used, the following requirements apply:

(i) Bids must be solicited from an adequate number of known suppliers, providing them sufficient response time prior to the date set for opening the bids, for local, and tribal governments, the invitation for bids must be publicly advertised;

(ii) The invitation for bids, which will include any specifications and pertinent attachments, must define the items or services in order for the bidder to properly respond;

(iii) All bids will be opened at the time and place prescribed in the invitation for bids, and for local and tribal governments, the bids must be opened publicly;

(iv) A firm fixed price contract award will be made in writing to the lowest responsive and responsible bidder. Where specified in bidding documents, factors such as discounts, transportation cost, and life cycle costs must be considered in determining which bid is lowest. Payment discounts will only be used to determine the low bid when prior experience indicates that such discounts are usually taken advantage of; and

(v) Any or all bids may be rejected if there is a sound documented reason.

(d) Procurement by competitive proposals. The technique of competitive proposals is normally conducted with more than one source submitting an offer, and either a fixed price or cost-reimbursement type contract is awarded. It is generally used when conditions are not appropriate for the use of sealed bids. If this method is used, the following requirements apply:

(1) Requests for proposals must be publicized and identify all evaluation factors and their relative importance. Any response to publicized requests for proposals must be considered to the maximum extent practical;

(2) Proposals must be solicited from an adequate number of qualified sources;

(3) The Non-Federal entity must have a written method for conducting technical evaluations of the proposals received and for selecting recipients;

(4) Contracts must be awarded to the responsible firm whose proposal is most advantageous to the program, with price and other factors considered; and

(5) The Non-Federal entity may use competitive proposal procedures for qualifications-based procurement of architectural/engineering (A/E) professional services whereby competitors' qualifications are evaluated, and the most qualified competitor is selected, subject to negotiation of fair and reasonable compensation. The method, where price is not used as a selection factor, can only be used in procurement of A/E professional services. It cannot be used to purchase other types of services though A/E firms are a potential source to perform the proposed effort.

(e) [Reserved]

(f) Procurement by noncompetitive proposals. Procurement by noncompetitive proposals is procurement through solicitation of a proposal from only one source and may be used only when one or more of the following circumstances apply:

(1) The item is available only from a single source;

(2) The public exigency or emergency for the requirement will not permit a delay resulting from competitive solicitation;

(3) The Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity expressly authorizes noncompetitive proposals in response to a written request from the non-Federal entity; or

(4) After solicitation of a number of sources, competition is determined inadequate.

[78 FR 78608, Dec. 26, 2013, as amended at 79 FR 75885, Dec. 19, 2014; 80 FR 54409, Sept. 10, 2015]

§200.321 Contracting with small and minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms.

(a) The Non-Federal entity must take all necessary affirmative steps to assure that minority businesses, women's business enterprises, and labor surplus area firms are used when possible.

(b) Affirmative steps must include:

(1) Placing qualified small and minority businesses and women's business enterprises on solicitation lists;

(2) Assuring that small and minority businesses, and women's business enterprises are solicited whenever they are potential sources;

(3) Dividing total requirements, when economically feasible, into smaller tasks or quantities to permit maximum participation by small and minority businesses, and women's business enterprises;

(4) Establishing delivery schedules, where the requirement permits, which encourage participation by small and minority businesses, and women's business enterprises;

(5) Using the services and assistance, as appropriate, of such organizations as the Small Business Administration and the Minority Business Development Agency of the Department of Commerce; and

(6) Requiring the prime contractor, if subcontracts are to be let, to take the affirmative steps listed in paragraphs (1) through (5) of this section.

A non-Federal entity that is a state agency or agency of a political subdivision of a state and its contractors must comply with section 6002 of the Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended by the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. The requirements of Section 6002 include procuring only items designated in guidelines of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) at 40 CFR part 247 that contain the highest percentage of recovered materials practicable, consistent with maintaining a satisfactory level of competition, where the purchase price of the item exceeds $10,000 or the value of the quantity acquired during the preceding fiscal year exceeded $10,000; procuring solid waste management services in a manner that maximizes energy and resource recovery; and establishing an affirmative procurement program for procurement of recovered materials identified in the EPA guidelines.

(a) The Non-Federal entity must perform a cost or price analysis in connection with every procurement action in excess of the Simplified Acquisition Threshold including contract modifications. The method and degree of analysis is dependent on the facts surrounding the particular procurement situation, but as a starting point, the non-Federal entity must make independent estimates before receiving bids or proposals.

(b) The Non-Federal entity must negotiate profit as a separate element of the price for each contract in which there is no price competition and, in all cases, where cost analysis is performed. To establish a fair and reasonable profit, consideration must be given to the complexity of the work to be performed, the risk borne by the contractor, the contractor's investment, the amount of subcontracting, the quality of its record of past performance, and industry profit rates in the surrounding geographical area for similar work.

(c) Costs or prices based on estimated costs for contracts under the Federal award are allowable only to the extent that costs incurred, or cost estimates included in negotiated prices would be allowable for the non-Federal entity under Subpart E—Cost Principles of this part. The non-Federal entity may reference its own cost principles that comply with the Federal cost principles.

(d) The cost plus a percentage of cost and percentage of construction cost methods of contracting must not be used.

(a) The Non-Federal entity must make available, upon request of the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity, technical specifications on proposed procurements where the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity believes such review is needed to ensure that the item or service specified is the one being proposed for acquisition. This review generally will take place prior to the time the specification is incorporated into a solicitation document. However, if the non-Federal entity desires to have the review accomplished after a solicitation has been developed, the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity may still review the specifications, with such review usually limited to the technical aspects of the proposed purchase.

(b) The Non-Federal entity must make available upon request, for the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity pre-procurement review, procurement documents, such as requests for proposals or invitations for bids, or independent cost estimates, when:

(1) The Non-Federal entity's procurement procedures or operation fails to comply with the procurement standards in this part;

(2) The procurement is expected to exceed the Simplified Acquisition Threshold and is to be awarded without competition or only one bid or offer is received in response to a solicitation;

(3) The procurement, which is expected to exceed the Simplified Acquisition Threshold, specifies a “brand name” product;

(4) The proposed contract is more than the Simplified Acquisition Threshold and is to be awarded to other than the apparent low bidder under a sealed bid procurement; or

(5) A proposed contract modification changes the scope of a contract or increases the contract amount by more than the Simplified Acquisition Threshold.

(c) The Non-Federal entity is exempt from the pre-procurement review in paragraph (b) of this section if the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity determines that its procurement systems comply with the standards of this part.

(1) The Non-Federal entity may request that its procurement system be reviewed by the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity to determine whether its system meets these standards in order for its system to be certified. Generally, these reviews must occur where there is continuous high-dollar funding, and third-party contracts are awarded on a regular basis;

(2) The Non-Federal entity may self-certify its procurement system. Such self-certification must not limit the Federal awarding agency's right to survey the system. Under a self-certification procedure, the Federal awarding agency may rely on written assurances from the non-Federal entity that it is complying with these standards. The non-Federal entity must cite specific policies, procedures, regulations, or standards as being in compliance with these requirements and have its system available for review.

For construction or facility improvement contracts or subcontracts exceeding the Simplified Acquisition Threshold, the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity may accept the bonding policy and requirements of the non-Federal entity provided that the Federal awarding agency or pass-through entity has made a determination that the Federal interest is adequately protected. If such a determination has not been made, the minimum requirements must be as follows:

(a) A bid guarantee from each bidder equivalent to five percent of the bid price. The “bid guarantee” must consist of a firm commitment such as a bid bond, certified check, or other negotiable instrument accompanying a bid as assurance that the bidder will, upon acceptance of the bid, execute such contractual documents as may be required within the time specified.

(b) A performance bond on the part of the contractor for 100 percent of the contract price. A “performance bond” is one executed in connection with a contract to secure fulfillment of all the contractor's obligations under such contract.

(c) A payment bond on the part of the contractor for 100 percent of the contract price. A “payment bond” is one executed in connection with a contract to assure payment as required by law of all persons supplying labor and material in the execution of the work provided for in the contract.

The non-Federal entity's contracts must contain the applicable provisions described in Appendix II to Part 200—Contract Provisions for non-Federal Entity Contracts Under Federal Awards.

Appendix II to Part 200—Contract Provisions for Non-Federal Entity Contracts Under Federal Awards

In addition to other provisions required by the Federal agency or non-Federal entity, all contracts made by the non-Federal entity under the Federal award must contain provisions covering the following, as applicable.

(A) Contracts for more than the simplified acquisition threshold currently set at $250,000, which is the inflation adjusted amount determined by the Civilian Agency Acquisition Council and the Defense Acquisition Regulations Council (Councils) as authorized by 41 U.S.C. 1908, must address administrative, contractual, or legal remedies in instances where contractors violate or breach contract terms, and provide for such sanctions and penalties as appropriate.

(B) All contracts in excess of $10,000 must address termination for cause and for convenience by the non-Federal entity including how it will be affected and the basis for settlement.

(C) Equal Employment Opportunity. Except as otherwise provided under 41 CFR Part 60, all contracts that meet the definition of “federally assisted construction contract” in 41 CFR Part 60-1.3 must include the equal opportunity clause provided under 41 CFR 60-1.4(b), in accordance with Executive Order 11246, “Equal Employment Opportunity” (30 FR 12319, 12935, 3 CFR Part, 1964-1965 Comp., p. 339), as amended by Executive Order 11375, “Amending Executive Order 11246 Relating to Equal Employment Opportunity,” and implementing regulations at 41 CFR part 60, “Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, Equal Employment Opportunity, Department of Labor.”

(D) Davis-Bacon Act, as amended (40 U.S.C. 3141-3148). When required by Federal program legislation, all prime construction contracts in excess of $2,000 awarded by non-Federal entities must include a provision for compliance with the Davis-Bacon Act (40 U.S.C. 3141-3144, and 3146-3148) as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 5, “Labor Standards Provisions Applicable to Contracts Covering Federally Financed and Assisted Construction”). In accordance with the statute, contractors must be required to pay wages to laborers and mechanics at a rate not less than the prevailing wages specified in a wage determination made by the Secretary of Labor. In addition, contractors must be required to pay wages not less than once a week. The non-Federal entity must place a copy of the current prevailing wage determination issued by the Department of Labor in each solicitation. The decision to award a contract or subcontract must be conditioned upon the acceptance of the wage determination. The non-Federal entity must report all suspected or reported violations to the Federal awarding agency. The contracts must also include a provision for compliance with the Copeland “Anti-Kickback” Act (40 U.S.C. 3145), as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 3, “Contractors and Subcontractors on Public Building or Public Work Financed in Whole or in Part by Loans or Grants from the United States”). The Act provides that each contractor or subrecipient must be prohibited from inducing, by any means, any person employed in the construction, completion, or repair of public work, to give up any part of the compensation to which he or she is otherwise entitled. The non-Federal entity must report all suspected or reported violations to the Federal awarding agency.

(E) Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act (40 U.S.C. 3701-3708). Where applicable, all contracts awarded by the non-Federal entity in excess of $100,000 that involve the employment of mechanics or laborers must include a provision for compliance with 40 U.S.C. 3702 and 3704, as supplemented by Department of Labor regulations (29 CFR Part 5). Under 40 U.S.C. 3702 of the Act, each contractor must be required to compute the wages of every mechanic and laborer based on a standard work week of 40 hours. Work in excess of the standard work week is permissible provided that the worker is compensated at a rate of not less than one and a half times the basic rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of 40 hours in the work week. The requirements of 40 U.S.C. 3704 are applicable to construction work and provide that no laborer or mechanic must be required to work in surroundings or under working conditions which are unsanitary, hazardous or dangerous. These requirements do not apply to the purchases of supplies or materials or articles ordinarily available on the open market, or contracts for transportation or transmission of intelligence.

(F) Rights to Inventions Made Under a Contract or Agreement. If the Federal award meets the definition of “funding agreement” under 37 CFR § 401.2 (a) and the recipient or subrecipient wishes to enter into a contract with a small business firm or nonprofit organization regarding the substitution of parties, assignment or performance of experimental, developmental, or research work under that “funding agreement,” the recipient or subrecipient must comply with the requirements of 37 CFR Part 401, “Rights to Inventions Made by Nonprofit Organizations and Small Business Firms Under Government Grants, Contracts and Cooperative Agreements,” and any implementing regulations issued by the awarding agency.

(G) Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7401-7671q.) and the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (33 U.S.C. 1251-1387), as amended—Contracts and subgrants of amounts in excess of $150,000 must contain a provision that requires the non-Federal award to agree to comply with all applicable standards, orders or regulations issued pursuant to the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7401-7671q) and the Federal Water Pollution Control Act as amended (33 U.S.C. 1251-1387). Violations must be reported to the Federal awarding agency and the Regional Office of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

(H) Mandatory standards and policies relating to energy efficiency which are contained in the state energy conservation plan issued in compliance with the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (42 U.S.C. 6201).

(I) Debarment and Suspension (Executive Orders 12549 and 12689)—A contract award (see 2 CFR 180.220) must not be made to parties listed on the governmentwide Excluded Parties List System in the System for Award Management (SAM), in accordance with the OMB guidelines at 2 CFR 180 that implement Executive Orders 12549 (3 CFR Part 1986 Comp., p. 189) and 12689 (3 CFR Part 1989 Comp., p. 235), "Debarment and Suspension." The Excluded Parties List System in SAM contains the names of parties debarred, suspended, or otherwise excluded by agencies, as well as parties declared ineligible under statutory or regulatory authority other than Executive Order 12549.

(J) Byrd Anti-Lobbying Amendment (31 U.S.C. 1352)—Contractors that apply or bid for an award of $100,000 or more must file the required certification. Each tier certifies to the tier above that it will not and has not used Federal appropriated funds to pay any person or organization for influencing or attempting to influence an officer or employee of any agency, a member of Congress, officer or employee of Congress, or an employee of a member of Congress in connection with obtaining any Federal contract, grant or any other award covered by 31 U.S.C. 1352. Each tier must also disclose any lobbying with non-Federal funds that takes place in connection with obtaining any Federal award. Such disclosures are forwarded from tier to tier up to the non-Federal award.

(K) See § 200.322 Procurement of recovered materials.

Change Order Policies and Procedures for Subrecipients of Federal HUD Funding Through Clark County, Nevada

The following process for change orders will be used to document adjustments to construction contracts that are funded by federal HUD dollars provided to subrecipients through Clark County's U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development funding administered through the Community Resources Management unit of Clark County Social Service. These policies and procedures apply to all subrecipients of Clark County federally funded construction projects.

When is a Change Order Required?

An official change order will result from changes regarding the original scope of work, price or schedule agreed upon between the subrecipient and parties involved in construction projects. A change order is a written instrument prepared by an architect and signed by the owner, contractor and architect stating their agreement of a change to the scope of work, timeframe or amount.

How Frequently Should Change Orders Be Used?

Change orders are to be used minimally. The subrecipient will develop complete and well-defined scopes of work for construction projects to limit the need of change orders, thus avoiding overuse of change orders. When a scope of work is developed, the subrecipient will send a copy to staff at the Community Resources Management unit. When change orders are required, the subrecipient will clearly document and keep records explaining the need for the change order.

How Should Change Orders Undergo A Cost Analysis?

The subrecipient will undertake a cost analysis for every change order. Cost analysis is the review and evaluation of each element of cost to determine reasonableness and applicability. Change order requests are required to show a breakdown between materials, labor and overhead/profit. Cost analysis requires, at a minimum, review and sign off by the construction project architect and the project owner to attest to applicability of the change order to the project and the reasonableness of cost of the change order. The change order will also be reviewed by Clark County CRM staff, as explained in the next section.

How Will Clark County CRM Staff Review the Change Order?

As the lead agency for HUD funding, Clark County must review and sign off on all subrecipient change orders. After the architect has signed off on the change order and prior to implementing the change order, the subrecipient will submit the change order to the Clark County CRM staff for review and sign-off. The subrecipient also will submit a cost analysis documentation and approval letter from the architect. Clark County will provide written sign-off on the change orders in a timely fashion so as to not delay projects.

What Records Must Subrecipients Keep?

The subrecipient will maintain hard copy or digital records of all change orders, including cost analysis and review and approval by subrecipient staff, and will produce those records for monitoring by County or Federal level staff. Clark County CRM will maintain records of sign-off on change orders.

Appendix D

This Appendix applies only to construction projects jointly developed with Non-Profit Organizations and Agencies (Does not include projects developed in conjunction with Clark County RPM).

For projects that receive Federal funding, certain procedures must be followed to comply with applicable Federal statutes and executive orders. Grantees must also follow applicable State or local laws on procurement, depending on their location. If there are inconsistencies among Federal, State or local laws, the strictest of the requirements applies.

Procurement Manual

Non-Federal entities, e.g. both Non-Profit organizations (e.g. Catholic Charities, Nevada Hand, etc.) and units of local government (Clark County, North Las Vegas, Mesquite, etc.), are required to have written procurement procedures or a “Procurement Manual” that clearly outlines purchasing and contracting procedures that comply with Federal Regulations. Among other things, the requirements governing the purchasing process are designed to ensure the following:

- Free and open competitive process in securing products and services
- Proper documentation of activities and decisions
- Comply with special rules for particular kinds of purchases (competitive sealed bids, etc.)
- Proper bonding and insurance
- Use of local businesses and contacting preferences with small, minority and/or women-owned businesses to the maximum extent feasible

These non-Federal entities also must maintain oversight to ensure that contractors perform in accordance with the terms, conditions and specifications of their contracts or purchase orders.

Procurement and Contracting Ground Rules (See Appendix E)

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Office of Inspector General (OIG) published an “Integrity Bulletin” titled “Procurement & Contracting: Five Ground Rules for Grantees and Subrecipients”. Federal Grants made after December 14, 2014 are now covered by a new common rule at 2 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations) Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. The five basics that should be in place, as discussed in greater detail in the bulletin, are:

- Maintain Separation of Duties
- Provide Competencies and Training
- Insist on Good Record Keeping
- Maximize Competition
- Uphold Ethics and Bar Conflicts of Interest

Agencies and subrecipients should review this OIG bulletin when developing and updating their procurement and contracting procedures. They are also encouraged to review the Clark County CRM Subrecipient Guidelines for Federal Funding Procurement Policies and Procedures and to ensure their Procurement Manual meet the necessary minimum Federal compliance requirements.

Procurement & Contracting: Five Ground Rules for Executive Directors and Commissioners

Purpose

Goods and services must be procured in an effective manner and in compliance with Federal, State, and local laws. Although the majority of public housing agencies (PHA) comply with these rules and regulations, we are issuing this bulletin to assist you in identifying weaknesses in procurement and contracting procedures. Weak procurement policies or nonexistent oversight can entice some employees to manipulate contracts to their personal benefit. However, the very act of monitoring procurements and contracts has a deterrent effect on fraud and thereby enhances the integrity of the program.

While the information contained in this procurement process bulletin does not supersede HUD Handbook 7460.8, REV 2 (dated February 2007), or other issued guidance currently in effect, it should serve as a useful tool in highlighting important requirements and establishing self-assessments of your PHA's procurement and contracting activities.

Background

PHAs are local governments, and their operating and capital assistance funds are considered Federal grants covered by 24 CFR (Code of Federal Regulations) Part 85, Administrative Requirements for Grants and Cooperative Agreements to State, Local, and Federally Recognized Indian Tribal Governments. Part 85 is also known as the "Common Rule" in that it applies to all State and local government recipients of Federal housing assistance grants. The Office of Management and Budget will supersede this regulation in late 2014 when it issues an update to the Common Rule in 2 CFR Part 200. HUD will then revise 24 CFR to incorporate this revision. PHAs are also required to follow applicable State or local laws on procurement, depending on their location. If there are inconsistencies among Federal, State, or local laws, the strictest of the requirements applies.

Although the administrative procedures concerning procurement may vary from agency to agency, there are several major requirements that should be met consistently. While reviewers must concentrate on administrative compliance, they also should be alert to indications of fraud and abuse. When indications of irregularity are uncovered, additional assessment of the situation may be needed. It is prudent for board members to be alert to any controversies or complaints regarding these activities and the staff responsible for them.

Ensure That Five Ground Rules Are in Place

A primary duty of the board of commissioners in regard to procurement and contracts is to ensure that policies and procedures are in place and comply with all Federal, State, and local requirements. As any business leader would attest, the greatest challenge in these times, and the most likely answer will be “to manage costs.” Procurement and contracting are key areas in which PHAs can control costs. Generally, the board approves the procurement policy, and the executive director is responsible for executing the policy and ensuring that it is followed. Regardless of whether the executive director administers procurement directly, delegates it to other officials, or contracts out the procurement process, the PHA and its board are ultimately responsible. You should ensure that checks and balances are in place to detect and prevent violations of procurement rules and procedures. In other words, internal controls and a quality control system should be in place so you can have assurances that rules are followed. While you must follow all requirements, you will position yourself well for meeting other rules by ensuring that the following five basics are in place:

1. Maintain Separation of Duties

The most direct way to prevent fraud is to eliminate the opportunity.

The person delegated to do the ordering should be different from the person(s) receiving and accepting the goods and the person(s) paying for the order. When this is not possible due to the limited size of staff, or when the process is decentralized, as in the case of an out-stationed project manager, additional rules should be used, such as limiting dollar authorizations and periodic reviews by an independent individual. The board should ensure that only designated individuals have the authority to bind the PHA to contracts. If you have a small staff, the board should provide increased oversight.

Example of Inadequate Separation of Duties

A Georgia housing authority used $891,468 in Federal funds to pay ineligible and unsupported costs. The authority's board did not ensure that the former executive director expended funds in accordance with the authority's and HUD's requirements, adequately documented expenditures, and followed procurement policies. This condition occurred because the former executive director controlled all expenditure functions and did not establish proper separation of duties. She could prepare, sign, and code checks for accounting purposes. Only one signature was required on checks. She also reviewed and approved invoices. The board did not review any of the expenditures, nor did the former executive director provide the board with a list of expenditures. Among the former executive director's ineligible personal purchases were landscaping, televisions, cameras, Christmas decorations, dog food, veterinarian fees, and a waterslide. Were recommended that HUD require the Authority to repay $185,764 for ineligible payments made to or on behalf of the former board chairman, support $182,369 in payments made to or on the behalf of the former executive director and the former lease enforcement officer, provide documentation to support $523,335 in payments made for various purchases or repay its public housing program, and ensure that its board performs its oversight duties in a responsible manner. PHA officials responsible for improper payments were referred to the Departmental Enforcement Center for appropriate administrative actions.

2. Provide Competencies and Training

A best practice for the board is to ensure that there are requirements in place to have procurement and contracting staffs sufficiently trained to conduct their duties.

Federal and State contracting officers have strict training requirements, but these requirements generally do not flow down to the PHA level. So much of the PHA's expenditures flow through this process, that it is a high-risk area, and requires competent and ethical staff to perform at a high level.

Consequently, it is up to the board to ensure that a standard is in place and that any executive director it may hire has training and experience in this area. The board should also receive training in procurement and contracting and understand the PHA's policies for procurement and contracting. Training is usually available from industry associations and State agencies.

Example of Poor Training

A Louisiana housing authority did not always follow procurement regulations for its accounting, legal, and auditing services. It did not (1) use the proper procurement method, (2) execute complete bid packages and contracts, (3) maintain required contract documentation, or (4) renew contracts before their expiration date. These conditions occurred because the executive director did not always understand Federal requirements. As a result, payments totaling $176,827 were unsupported. The Office of Inspector General (OIG) recommended, among other things, that the executive director and other staff be given procurement training.

3. Insist on Good Record Keeping

Board members will want to ensure that policies and procedures are comprehensive regarding the level of documentation to be maintained on procurements and contracts. The HUD handbook discusses in section 3-3 the types of documents to be kept for each procurement or contract. While outside parties may sometimes assist in the procurement process, all records should be maintained in one location so that overseers can view the complete picture.

While not required, you may want to consider requiring that periodic reports on procurement activities be submitted to the board or executive director to ensure transparency in the process. Reviewing these reports may disclose conflicts of interest or other abuses. Such reports to consider obtaining regularly are

- A “spend map”—a periodic plan for what is to be bought. Understand what (and how) your PHA spends.
- A contracts register of vendors, contractors, and subcontractors by date and type of procurement (micro-purchases, small purchases, requests for proposals, sole-source and competitive bids), funding source, and amount of the contract, along with a brief description.
- Summary of change orders by contract.
- A report that cross-checks vendor addresses and phone numbers with those of PHA employees.
- A report of any purchases lacking invoices.

Example of Poor Record Keeping

A south Texas housing authority failed to follow Federal regulations and its own procurement policy in its procurement and contracting for goods and services. Also, contrary to Federal requirements, the authority lacked a contract monitoring or administration system and failed to maintain procurement or contract files. Therefore, it was unable to provide records sufficient to detail the significant history of its procurements, including independent cost estimates, evidence of adequate competition when required, and clearly written contracts. As a result, the authority incurred $453,864 in ineligible costs and could not support almost $1.8 million in procurement and contracting costs. OIG recommended that HUD determine whether the authority was in substantial default of its annual contributions contract and take appropriate administrative actions against its executive director and commissioners and support or repay undocumented costs.

4. Uphold Ethics and Bar Conflicts of Interest

Policies should apply to all board members as well as all PHA employees involved in PHA contracts and purchases. HUD requires that a written code of standards be included in the PHA's procurement policy, and many State and local conflict-of-interest laws exist. Ensure that your guiding principles bar those in positions of trust from personally gaining from transactions and that the process is fair to all seeking business with the PHA.

A common problem is the lack of understanding of what "appearances of conflicts" entails. Too often, PHA boards and managers believe that indirect or noncash gifts are not considered a conflict of interest. Examples are: vendor or contractor donations to PHA employee fund-raising drives, event tickets, meals, or giveaway gifts like a Thanksgiving turkey or iPad drawing, given to a PHA employee or board member or their affiliated organization.

These gifts would be considered potential conflicts of interest so it's best to be wary of accepting anything of value from a contractor. If you are unsure whether it is legal, seek expert advice.

As a board member, you have an obligation to not only avoid conflicts of interest yourself, but also to be alert and question real or apparent conflicts by any other PHA employee or board member. Conflict-of-interest restrictions also extend to immediate family members, business partners, or organizations where they may be currently employed or are seeking employment. Generally, there is also a restriction for a 1-year period after leaving the PHA that prohibits PHA employees and their businesses from selling or attempting to sell goods and services to the PHA. See the HUD handbook, section 4-4, for more detailed restrictions or seek PHA counsel if you are in doubt about any situation.

Example of Ethical Violations

An investigation by HUD-OIG found that the director of modernization of a South Dakota housing authority accepted kickbacks from a contractor to garner favor for future contracts. The director pled guilty to one count of bribery concerning programs receiving Federal funds. He was sentenced to 1 year and 1 day incarceration and 3 years supervised release, fined $10,800, and ordered to pay restitution of $7,500. The HUD Departmental Enforcement Center debarred him from participation in procurement and non-procurement transactions for 36 months.

5. Maximize Competition

Ensuring that procurements are conducted and contracts are awarded in a way that obtains the most competition will serve the agency well. Things to look for and scrutinize are

- Sole-source contracts,
- A failure to rotate vendors on lower priced purchases,
- The use of unreasonably narrow or specific qualification criteria or bid specifications,

- Short timeframes for responding to offers,
- An insufficient number of responsive bidders,
- The overuse of small purchase contracts,
- An excessive number of small purchase contracts close to the small purchase dollar limit, and
- Insufficient price or rate quotes from qualified sources.

Example of Restricting Competition

The prior executive director of a Florida housing authority spent more than $1.1 million for services provided by three firms without support that he acquired the services in compliance with HUD's and the authority's procurement requirements. He purchased the services on a case-by-case basis through a series of smaller purchases, which individually fell within his purchase authority but in total exceeded his $100,000 purchase authority. Before the OIG audit, a new board chairperson began to question actions by the prior executive director, and the board prepared a formal evaluation of his performance. The evaluation resulted in a decision by the board to terminate the prior executive director's employment contract.

In Summary – Stay Alert

Most procurement and contracting problems come to light through complaints, protests, and alertness to unusual circumstances. Be sensitive to any audit findings on the procurement process by your independent public auditor. Board members must be vigilant for any controversies or complaints regarding these activities and the staff members who are responsible for them. You should understand the types of purchases that are not allowed or exceed needs. Remember, even allowable costs can be disallowed if they are unreasonable or not for an eligible or allowed purpose. Finally, HUD regulations specify the types of contracting actions that require HUD approval. Be sure your agency follows those rules. While there are many more schemes in the procurement and contracting areas, following the above basics will give you and your agency a head start in preventing abuses and fraud. If in doubt about a situation, don't ignore it. Get advice from your counsel, HUD office, or other experts.

Serious allegations of fraud should be reported to your local HUD Office of Inspector General or to the HUD OIG hotline at <http://www.hudoig.gov/report-fraud>

Procurement Acknowledgement-No Conflict

Project: Woodbury Skate Park
Subrecipient: City of Mesquite
A & E: _____
Const. Manager: City of Mesquite
Contractor: _____

Procurement Manual: Subrecipients are required to maintain written procurement procedures and a code of conduct policy that avoids real or apparent conflicts of interest. They can incorporate Clark County CRM's "Subrecipient Guidelines for Federal Funding: Procurement Policies and Procedures" by reference into their written standards to assist in meeting these Federal funding requirements and be compliant with the terms of the grant agreement.

The subrecipient is required to review, complete and return the following:

- Appendix B of the CC CRM procurement policies and procedures
- Appendix F (this document) acknowledging no conflict of interest with previously contracted Architectural & Engineering (A&E) and/or Construction Management (CM) service providers
- Written procurement procedures/code of conduct to CC CRM staff prior to execution of the grant agreement.
- If required, an explanation of cost reasonableness for previously procured A&E and CM services

Architectural & Engineering (A&E) and Construction Management (CM): Our Procurement Guidelines cite Federal requirements for procuring RFP's or RFQ's when sealed bids are not appropriate. Subrecipients that are awarded CDBG/Federal funding typically had to retain the services of an Architect and/or Engineer, and/or a Construction Manager, to assist in completing their application. A&E professionals and/or CM's that were used in the creation of the application can be used for an awarded project without undergoing the competitive procurement process if the costs are considered reasonable and there is no conflict of interest.

Such a conflict of interest would arise when the employee, officer, or representative, any member of his or her immediate family, his or her partner, or an organization which employs or is about to employ any of the parties indicated herein, has a financial or other interest in (or a tangible personal benefit from) a firm considered for a contract (e.g the selected A&E professional or CM is a member of the board or related to a key member of the development team, etc.).

Both A&E and CM services must be deemed cost reasonable. The subrecipient is required to provide an explanation of fees attesting to cost reasonableness. CC CRM will review and notify the subrecipient if they agree, or disagree, with the cost reasonableness assessment.

By signing this document, I am acknowledging that no such conflict exists, and CC CRM has been provided with an explanation of cost reasonableness for any previously procured A&E and CM services.

Prime Contractor: Our Procurement Guidelines outline Federal requirements for procuring contractors using a competitive, publicly advertised, sealed bid process under a traditional design/bid/build delivery method. This method is typically used to select the "prime" contractor, who would be contractually obligated to complete the project for their bid amount, assuming their bid is responsive and most advantageous to the subrecipient.

A Construction Manager with intimate knowledge of the project cannot compete with other Prime Contractors in a traditional sealed bid procurement for a "Prime Contract". However, a CM paid separately under terms specified and approved in the prior section, can contract with "Subcontractors" if they are procured through the competitive, publicly advertised, sealed-bid process outlined in 2 CFR 200.320.

Please review the Federal Regulations to ensure compliance with your intended construction delivery method.
