Rural Alliance Advisory Committee

The RAAC consists of individuals that reside within a residential neighborhood in Clark County, with densities of 2 dwelling units per acre or less, areas designated with a rural neighborhood preservation overlay, or other spaces that are rural in nature. Members will offer input on issues that directly impact these areas. Members serve without compensation for two-year terms and attend regularly scheduled public meetings throughout the year.

To Whom It May Concern,

It is my privilege to support Alejandro Galindo as he seeks appointment to the Clark County Rural Alliance Advisory Committee (RAAC).

I first came to know Mr. Galindo in 2016, during my tenure as the State Veterinarian. Mr. Galindo proved to be an invaluable partner and strong advocate for the rural residents of Clark County. He aided my efforts in times when it mattered most, helping me and my colleagues at the Nevada Department of Agriculture connect with the charro community during disease events.

I can affirm that Mr. Galindo has a rare ability to serve as a conduit to rural communities, a role that is vitally important when communicating with residents who may lack trust in government agencies. In that way, I believe Mr. Galindo is uniquely suited to fulfill the mission of the RAAC and uphold the voices of all his rural neighbors.

Additionally, Mr. Galindo is widely respected for working with all affected parties, regardless of opinions, views, or political affiliations. He is a true champion of western heritage and an upstanding representative of Nevada on the local, state, and national levels.

For these reasons, my endorsement of his appointment to the Clark County RAAC could not be stronger.

Thank you,
