DIFFERENTIAL RESPONSE WORKER • EAST VALLEY FAMILY SERVICES • 10/31/2011 TO 02/01/2018

A call comes into the CPS intake department to report abuse or neglect of a child. Once the report is deemed to be a priority 3 (which is the lowest priority), it is assigned to the Differential Response Department. I am the first responder to the report. I work in the central area, so I am comfortable being in high-risk situations. The first encounter is contacting the family to ensure the safety of the children. Each day is different, and each report brings a diverse population. Every client I encounter is handle with respect. My purpose is to make a positive change with the family. I do case management for 20+ cases.

The Differential Response Family Support team works together with Clark County Child Protective Services (CPS) to assess families who need community support and assistance. The DR program is designed to help families (all referred through the Child Abuse and Neglect Hotline) break the cycle of CPS involvement without removing children.

The Differential Response team makes home and school visits based on reports made to the CPS Child Abuse and Neglect Hotline and offers various types of assistance based on the nature of the report. During these assessment visits, the family may be referred to other services in
