ARTICLE I: SCOPE OF WORK

AGREEMENT sets forth:

AGENCY will utilize JAG funding to support its Specialty Court program, a judicially supervised program which reduces crime by promoting defendants' recovery from the substance use or mental health disorders which contributed to their criminal behavior. To be eligible for inclusion in a Specialty Court program, defendants' must have committed a misdemeanor offense in the City of Las Vegas and have a history of drug use and/or mental health problems.

The process followed by AGENCY Specialty Court Programs follows proven, evidence-based standards known as the Drug Court 10 Key Components. There are over 3,400 drug courts across the U.S., all of which utilize this basic model, which is considered an evidence-based practice.

AGENCY operates six Specialty Court programs, adhering to the nationally proven drug court model. The court's six Specialty Court programs serve the following populations:

1. Women in Need of Change (WIN) Court, which serves women who have a history of trauma and arrests related to drugs and prostitution;
2. Habitual Offenders Prevention and Education (HOPE) Court, which serves habitual, typically homeless defendants;
3. Youthful Offender (YO) Court, which serves offenders between the ages of 18 and 24, and requires a committed family member or other adult to participate in the program to support the defendant's recovery;
4. Driving Under the Influence (DUI) Court, which targets repeat DUI offenders or first time offenders with high blood alcohol levels at the time of arrest;
5. Veterans Court, which serves Veterans of all ages diagnosed with substance use and/or co-occurring mental health problems that contributed to their criminal behavior, and connects them with Veterans health and other benefits; and
6. Mental Health Court, which serves offenders with mental health disorders, connecting them to community resources for continued care and medication management. Co- occurring drug and alcohol issues are addressed in this population as well.
7. Fresh Start Program, which serves individuals experiencing homelessness and facing criminal charges, by helping them address the underlying causes of their situation, and to achieve stable employment and housing.
